If you loved hanging out with these 3 major classified websites such as Carraiglist, Kijiji and Backpage then you better pay attention.

Spam Email From Kijiji - Screenshot

Have you tried selling on these 3 giant free classified websites before and often receiving emails that seems to be from aliens? Like when you're selling some goodies like for example "used TV" you should expect email inquiries from buyers instead you're receiving emails that trying to offer you other stuff. This is called "SPAM emails" or simply unsolicited emails from marketers and it is illegal. You can flag them or report it to the moderator of these classified websites.

There are tons of crappy marketers out there who are using people overseas to do all these spamming. They outsource these tasks for simple reasons, they don't wanna get traced by authorities and they can afford to hire more spammers for a cheaper price.

But not all marketers are using this illegal tactics of marketing their products, there few marketers that I personally known. Some are hiring people overseas but with strict guidelines some are simply uses tricky but neat tatics by just simply using software to automate the process.

Marketing on these free classified websites is extremely profitable I know because I'm doing it, but if you are planning to do it make sure that you follow the "Can Spam Act guidelines" Make sure that you only send emails to people that needs your products or services and don't do it randomly by just pluggin to a software and just let it run on its own.

If you are planning to automate your marketing tasks on these 3 free classified websites I highly recommend Instant Lead Magnet. This is a new software created by Calvin and Jonathan of IM Buzz. What this software does is automate the search of your prospects by just keying in keywords and it automatically give you all the list of people who are posting on WTB or Wanted To Buy section of these 3 major free classified websites. You can also email those people directly from the software interface... very cool.

Be carefull though by just blasting out messages as your ISP or internet service provider might penalize you by sending emails over the limit that they allowed per day.
